NEW DOG CART

We note with a great deal
of satisfaction that the pound-
master has a new horse to pull his dilapidated cart with which he collects dogs on the city streets. However we have failed to notice any improvement or increase in the size of the match-box in which he keeps the dogs.

We never have been able to fathom the mystery of how he managed to get a full grown police, collie, or other dog of similar size into the box which certainly is not large enough for any of these breeds of dogs to stand upright. If we are not sadly mistaken the putting of dogs
into boxes or crates not large enough for them comes under the jurisdiction of the Society
for the Prevention of the Cruelty to Animals. This it seems should hold true whether the dog in question is a street mongrel or some dog
of pure blood, whose owner
happened to forget a license
or that had been lost.

UNSMILTY BARN

An improvement that will be welcomed by residents in the vicinity of Fourth street and Ripley avenue is the improvement of an old barn in that section. Charges that the barn was holding up development
in that section, coupled with the statement that it was an eyesore to the city had the building in the limelight before the city council meetings
a great deal recently. When the owner of the barn was consulted however, he agreed to remove the barn entirely
or if no building in the section, was to start at once to improve it in such a way that it would be presentable.

A great deal of credit is due G. W. Cushing for this cooperative spirit. We understand that the improvement on the barn is now being made.

THE RAIN

Residents of Richmond as well as this entire state are jubilant over the rain which started falling early yesterday afternoon. Although not much was said about it, things looked rather bad due to the lack of rain this season, but the rain which started yesterday and is said to be general, is expected to bring the necessary moisture to the
ranches in this section.

IMPROVEMENTS
MADE ON BARN

Improvements are being made
on the Cushing barn at Fourth Street and Ripley avenue. For some time the old barn has been an eyesore to the residents of that district and complaints have been flooding the city council.

George Cushing the owner, has decided to raise the old building,
give it a new coat of paint and
place several doors at the side.
These improvements will do much to increase the appearance. Work was started on it yesterday.

The shed on the fourth street
side is being torn down and new doors will be placed on that side of the building.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license has been granted to Owen W. Terry, 10 Tunnel avenue, and Miss Mary L.
Foster, 107 West Richmond avenue. Terry is employed by the Standard Oil Company.

MOTOR BUS IS CHEAPER THAN
STREET CARS IN COST OF UPKEEP

Cheaper Cost of Operation Gives Motor Bus Chance to Charge Smaller Fare

By ROBERT SHAW
Reprinted from The Oakland
Post-Enquirer by special permission. (Mr. Shaw was sent by The Oakland Post-Enquirer to important cities of the east and middle west where he made a thorough study of the best transportation services.)

Operating Cost of Buses Less Than
That of Street Cars, According to New York Engineers

The city of New York, which has been the first to put into effect its municipal bus program, has now called for plans from various bus-companies for extensions of their routes and additional bus service.
An immediate new route mileage
of 116 miles is contemplated.

Thirty-five new routes are demanded by the city. The 539
vehicles transported 3016 people
on Seventh avenue, with no multiplier bus service, 538 vehicles passed a given point, going one way in the same time at the same hour,
and carried 918 people.

So that with practically the same number of vehicles passing in one direction in a given half hour, Fifth avenue, on any line, or about 12 percent of the total vehicle traffic, served as a channel
for the transportation of nearly four and a half times as many people as were carried on Seventh avenue in the same time.

The 35 new New York bus routes, covering 116 additional miles, will be operated under the partial control of the department of plant and structures, which corresponds somewhat with Oakland's department of public works.

Franchises will be given only for temporary periods not exceeding
four years on any line.

This short term franchise policy
has been adopted partly because
New York plans to operate its own motor bus system and partly because motor bus transportation is

STRUCK BY CAR

Miss Rose Kreutzen, 426 Thirty-ninth street, was painfully injured
late yesterday, when she was struck by a car driven by Donald Lathrop Streeter. Miss Kreutzen
had just stepped from a street car at Thirty-ninth street and Macdonald avenue, when she was struck by the car driven by Streeter.

Miss Kreutzen was rushed to the Cottage hospital, where she is reported to be doing nicely
although suffering from bruises
and shock.

AL SMITH SAYS
HE IS GOING TO QUIT POLITICS

(By Universal Service)
ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Alfred E. Smith will retire from the governorship and active politics
on January 1, next.

The governor authorized this announcement tonight at the evening of the Democratic state committee meeting for the election of a chairman. He is already hunting for an apartment in New York.

Tomorrow Smith will notify his party committeemen either in a public address or at private conference that his state leadership
will end when he quits the executive mansion at the end of the present year.

Unless the governor changes his mind he will administer his Democratic associates to abandon all thought of renominating him for a fourth term or making him the candidate for U. S. Senator against Senator James W. Wadsworth.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 14.—Reports of the train wreck at the station

the casualties or confirm the current rumor that 28 persons were killed.

Hanlon Opposes
Dempsey Battle

(By Universal Service)
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14.—William H. Hanlon, member of the state athletic commission, issued a statement today declaring he is unilaterally opposed to the staging
in California of any heavyweight
championship bout between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills, which would involve a guarantee of $750-000 to the participants.

"Dempsey and Wills will never fight in California for any such amount as $750,000 by my vote,"
said Hanlon. "In the first place
I believe this talk about Wills
and Dempsey is merely publicity."

SCENES FROM BIG MEXICAN
FLOOD TOLD

Loss of Life and Property Damage Heavy In Big Flood

NOGALES, Arizona, Jan. 14.—A husband tying his wife and five children in a tree top while he went for aid, only to return and find that swelling waters of the San Diego rivers had swept them away. Eight persons on the top of one remaining building in what had once been a thriving farming
community.

These and many other narratives
of destruction were brought here today by W. N. Lockett, the first eye witness to return from the district of recent destructive Mexican floods. Puckett reached here after he had fought his way across the raging San Diego and through the flood devastated region of the Mexican state of Nayarit in which was located the prosperous valley
that is no more.

"Though worn by weeks of storm
and torn by sights of death, weakened by the arduous trip across the wasted stretches of the San Diego valley, Puckett was able to give a vivid description of the flood, which claimed 2000 lives,
left 10,000 homeless, and caused
property damage of at least $5-000,000.

"The flood came upon us with rapidity," said Puckett in an ex-

One Sent to Napa
Another Held for Further Inquiry

Comilio Gonzales and Austin Zellner, who were picked up by the police several days ago, appeared before Superior Judge H.
V. Alvarado yesterday afternoon for examination. Both men were declared to have been running amuck when picked up by the police.

Gonzales was judged insane
and was sent to the Napa State Hospital. Zellner is being held by the authorities for further examination. According to the authorities, Zellner's insanity is caused by a pressure upon the brain and it is declared that an operation upon his head will remove the pressure and he will recover his sanity.

Zellner was picked up at El Cerrito by Deputy Sheriff George Conlon after Zellner had been parading up and down San Pablo avenue armed with a club and threatening the lives of several residents.

Gonzales was arrested at the Santa Fe shops by Police Chief Dan Cox. Gonzales had armed himself with a large pocket knife
and was threatening the lives of several of the other employees.

37 BODIES ARE FOUND IN MINE

(By Universal Service)
WILBURTON, Okla., Jan. 14.—
With the definite location of 37
bodies, victims of the DeGman-Mc-Connell mine disaster and the recovery of one of the men believed dead, rescue work was speeded up.

Late this afternoon 32 bodies
had been brought to the surface.
Physicians, taking charge of the victims as they were hoisted one by one from the 300 foot deep shaft, discovered signs of life in Beryl Holland, a negro miner
and applied the pulmotor to him.
Fifteen minutes later he was revived and pronounced out of danger.

REHEARING ON STREET CAR FARE INCREASE IS DENIED

Air Development Is Threatened

NEW RATES GO INTO EFFECT
THIS MORNING

Eleventh Hour Attempt To Have Rate Increase Set Aside Fails

COMMISSION ACTS FAST
Does Not Effect Petition Filed
By City Attorney D. J.
Hall

(By Universal Service)
Failing in an eleventh hour attempt yesterday to obtain a rehearing before the State Railroad commission on fare increases recently granted the Key System Transit Company, East Bay residents this morning will dig deeper into their pockets when they ride to work.

According to city attorney D. F.
Hall of this city the decision
made yesterday by the Railroad commission does not apply to a petition which he filed yesterday
asking that the fare rate from Richmond to Oakland be cut from three to one fare. Hall stated last night that this petition would not be in the hands of the commission before some time this morning.

A later action when the hearing
for the permanent increase comes before the commission is expected
on the petition filed by Hall.

Petitions presented to the commission by the cities of Oakland and Berkeley, backed by Richmond, Alameda, San Leandro
and Hayward, asking a re-consideration of the rate boost which becomes effective today, were denied within four hours of their receipt by the State body yesterday morning.

Refusal of a rehearing upon the application of the company for an "emergency increase" to cover
alleged losses accruing from recent increases in wages granted to platform men removed the last
obstacle to the new rates.

Although ferry rates will be raised from 18 cents to 21 cents, with street car fares 7 cents instead of 6, the former rate, the company will not increase the price of commutation books, it was announced by traction officials yesterday. The cost of the monthly ride book will remain at $4.80. Under the new schedule it would have jumped to $5.20 on February 1.

Leon Gray, Oakland city attorney, who prepared that city's petition to the commission after a conference with officials from other East Bay cities, represented that the commission erred in considering future development expenditures in arriving at its decision, that the facts did not warrant the action, but admitted
the justice of considering the increase in pay given to the company's platform men. The Berkeley petition was similar in its contentions.

The petition, according to Gray,
although too late to stop the new schedule becoming effective, was
"aimed to stop the whole transaction" when the company's application for permanent increases
comes up for hearing next month.

Twenty-one reasons why the increases were believed illegal were embodied in the petitions, principal among them being the contentions that the commission erred
in not considering the valuations
of the Southern Pacific Company,
whose rates must "necessarily remain on a parity" with those of the Key system, and that the commission considered future expenditures of money on the part of the company, whereas it "has no
power to compel the application

NEW YORK FOG SO DENSE THAT TIMOROUS DAMSELS CARRY LANTERNS TO INSURE SAFE STREET CROSSING

Early in the new year New York City was enshrouded for two days by a fog blanket so dense that even street traffic was held up. So the two fair maidens pictured above were not indulging in a new fad for style's sake but were toting the lamps for safety's sake. Both disavowed any intention of robbing the public of the benefits of their idea by applying for sole patent rights.

Substitute for Webster Street
Bridge Is Sought

The construction of a pontoon bridge or the establishment of a ferry system as the quickest and cheapest solution of the traffic
problem caused by the wrecking
of the Webster street bridge was considered at a hearing of the Alameda Board of Supervisors yesterday. Such a bridge would benefit pedestrian and automobile traffic
but could not accommodate street cars. The bridge would cost about $60,000 and bring a return of $25,000 when salvaged. The estimate of $60,000 included an estimated cost of $15,000 for complete removal of the old bridge.

M. King, county engineer, expressed the opinion that used barges could be obtained and the whole thing put in operation within three or four weeks. He stated that three men were all that were necessary to maintain and operate it. He also stated that it would be necessary to build the bridge in the quickest and most economical manner.

David Crowley of the Crowley
Launch and Tugboat company proposed that a double deck passenger ferry be put into operation.
It would give a two minute service. He said this ferry would require no slip but would not accommodate automobiles. He expressed the opinion that no barge
would meet the requirements of the law for transporting automobiles.

This pontoon bridge was favored by the county supervisors as quick action must be considered. The ferry proposal was put into favor
by the merchants of West Alameda. This was also expressed by Councilman Neils, who said
that many merchants in the west end are facing bankruptcy.

Thomas intends to use the property in connection with his automobile business.

House Naval Committee Given
Warning by Dirigible
Commander

By ARTHUR MACHTEN,
(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Commercial development of dirigibles
in America will stop and this country will take a back seat in the race to develop lighter-than-air ships for defense purposes, if Congress accepts recommendations of the House appropriations committee virtually to abandon this field of activity.

This was the warning given to the House naval affairs committee today by Captain George W. Steele, commander of the dirigible Los Angeles and the Lakehurst aviation field.

Taking sharp issue with the navy high command, which favors
cruisers and other surface warships over rigid airships, Captain Steele hurled the opening bomb
of the naval air forces against Secretary of the Navy Wilbur and Admiral Hilary P. Jones, his chief of the navy general board.

Captain Steele will be backed up tomorrow by Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the bureau of aeronautics, in support of the bill introduced by Representative Thomas S. Butler of Pennsylvania, chairman of the naval affairs
committee, to build a $5,000,000
dirigible to replace the wrecked Shenandoah.

"Commercial development of di-
rigibles will cease, if the government abandons the field, as private business is dependent upon the government of assistance,"
declared Captain Steele, as he ventured the prediction that England will shortly start a dirigible
line over the Atlantic Ocean.

"I hope to see the American flag
fly on the first transatlantic dirigible line, but I am afraid England is about to lead the way,"
he said.

side of the boys face was badly

CIVILIZED HUNTING

The expense of a hunting trip nowadays is almost invariably more than the worth of the game bagged. The average hunter, moreover, is a poor shot. He is a poor woodsman in general. Often he doesn't even know how to start a fire or cook his game, when he runs out of other food.

He has few qualifications of the hunter. Yet he hunts. He fares forth eagerly, jubilantly, just the same, year, after year, forgetting how often he has dragged himself home hungry, disappointed and totally worn out after such a spree with nature.

The instinct he yields to comes from the time when man had to kill wild things or starve. The instinct survives, but not the knowledge. Skill is lacking, but is partly made up by the double-barrel shot guns. Often the hunter shoots himself of some other hunter.

He is lured into the game, too, by the urge to prove to himself and others he is not decadent, that he is able, as his distant ancestors were, to go forth into the open and wrest a living from the wild. Instinct and egotism—and an undercurrent of doubt that he wants to dispel!

So he goes out and probably kills a few pitiful creatures that were better left alive, and comes back with the usual hunter's and fisherman's luck, only to start all over again the next season, instead of practicing at a mark in the back yard and buying his meat at the butcher shop.

BATTLE OF SKIRTS

If the Daughters of the Revolution want to start a fight on short skirts and bobbed hair they will have another revolution on their hands. Now that the daughters have grown to be grandmothers the girls will take things into their own keeping. There are other grandmothers, however, who are not only complacent but companionable. They have the shortest skirts and hair on the block and still take pride in their legs.

HATS AND HAIR

According to reports, Cossack hats trimmed with ostrich feathers have become the vogue in London. And as the hats rise higher the hair becomes shorter, for a high hat looks best on a shingled head. So the bobs are going the way of the tresses.

If the cold wave had remained hovering over Florida very long. Alaska with its volcanic spring weather would have began taking away the southern state's business.

The People Who Came To The New World

The "Line of Demarcation" which had been adopted in the latter part of the fifteenth century, gave the right of conquest, trade and colonization of all lands west of an imaginary line (which touched the mainland of South America about at the mouth of the Amazon) to Spain. All east, to Portugal.

Now this was a pleasant enough arrangement for Spain and Portugal. But there were other navigators from other countries who were not pleased to have the world so neatly divided between these two powerful neighbors of theirs.

By treaty, threat, battle and cool possession these other explorers managed to assert themselves.

England attempted to colonize the new country. The continent of North America had been discovered by John Cabot and his son Sebastian, under the English flag and England claimed a "clear title" to many parts of the coast.

An effort to plant a colony in Newfoundland was made in 1581.

But the fisheries at this point continued to be a drawing card for the hardy seamen. Fishing in this region and in the neighborhood of the Gulf of St. Lawrence had been thriving as early as fourteen years after Christopher Columbus had set foot upon the West Indies.

The French were not to be ignored. Verrazano and Cartier, came from France on an exploring expedition. The claims of France to the northern part of our continent were based upon the work of these two men. Cartier is called the discoverer of the St. Lawrence river. He visited the Indian village which has become the city of Montreal.

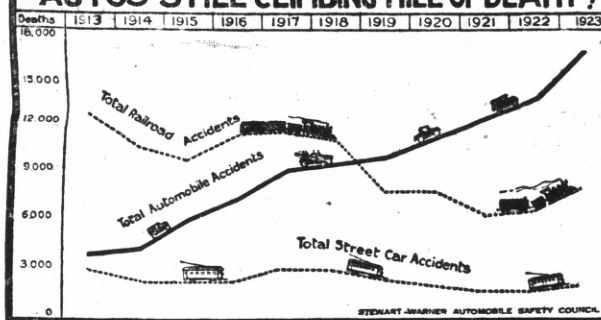

At one time the French tried to establish colonies in Brazil and in our South Carolina, but the enterprise failed. The Spanish and Portuguese people were hostile and made trouble for the outsiders whenever they could. The colonists themselves were also to blame, not being able to keep peace among themselves.

A French explorer named Champlain penetrated into northern New York and found the lake that bears his name. He was first governor of French Canada.

The Dutch sailors were not to be outdone. They too wanted a trading post and a colony in the new country. Their ships skirted the shores of Manhattan Island, where New York now stands.

AUTO TRAGEDIES INCREASE AS OTHER TRAVEL IS MADE SAFER

AUTOS STILL CLIMBING HILL OF DEATH

WHILE railroad tragedies and street car accidents in the United States have gradually been diminishing in the last ten years, the annual toll exacted by automobile casualties is steadily mounting, says the Stuyvesant-Warner Safety Council for the prevention of automobile accidents. Railroad accidents have been cut more than one-third, or from 12,520 in 1913 to 8,078 in 1923, the latest government figures available. Street car fatalities also have been cut down one-third, or from 3,080 in 1913 to 2,006 ten years later.

Automobile deaths, on the other hand, have increased over five-fold. Against the 3,822 deaths in 1913 we have 16,452 in 1923, and the score is growing each year.

Care, more care and still more care, is the solution of this national problem. The pedestrian must be always on the alert and as spry as a kangaroo. If he is to keep out of harm's way, and the driver for his part must never relax his vigilance for a moment when human lives are at his mercy.

Uses For Cranberry Sauce

HOW warmly the cranberry sauce glows and sparkles under the tail red Christmas candles, its deep crimson complementing the evergreen table decorations. It is only for their color, cranberries take their place on the festive table.

But there are many other reasons why cranberry sauce finds a place on the holiday menu. It is a delicious food, providing just the right tartness to sharpen the appetite. It is the traditional sauce for turkey, and is excellent with any meat.

It is good news to the over-worked housewife that she can purchase cranberry sauce in the can ready to serve. It is delicious, just the right flavor, color and consistency. By keeping several cans on her shelf she is prepared for any occasion demanding a sauce, pie filling or other dessert.

To make cranberry meringue pie, use one can of cranberry sauce, beat the yolks of two eggs, stir with one tablespoon of flour and enough cranberry juice to make a smooth paste, add the rest of the fruit and cook till the flour is done. Stir in a tablespoon of butter and let cool. Add vanilla and pour into a baked pie shell. Cover with a meringue made of the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs and two tablespoons of white sugar. Place in a cool oven to brown slightly.

Cranberries contain lime and iron, so should be used liberally at all times. Cranberry sauce makes a colorful garnish for an entrée. It may be frozen as a punch or frappe and served with the main course. Cranberry juice added to fruit cocktail improves both the color and taste and can also be used to dress up a salad.

Spring Fashions Forecast Novel Sleeve Treatments, Some of Which Are Entirely Detached From Frocks

Joan Crawford, movie actress, wearing an evening gown of blue, orchid and pink soufflé, with novel new sleeves that begin at the elbow, leaving the arm from shoulder to elbow bare. The tight bodice is of pink satin covered with silver mesh.

Sleeves this season are being individualized as never before. Where formerly sleeves were merely a part of one's gown, the ultra-modern sleeves may stand apart from the rest of the frock in total independence of it, is Fashion's latest verdict.

Joan Crawford, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, first to sponsor this new independent sleeve fashion, is shown wearing an evening frock with sleeves that begin at the elbow and hang low over the wrist in charming freedom and abandon from the rest of the frock shown in the illustration above. Note that these "sleevelets" follow the design of the skirt by falling in many points and being fashioned of the same material.

Early Spring fashions in sleeves give wide latitude to individual taste in the treatment of them. Whether one prefers the tight fitting sleeves of slender lines, or full flowing graceful sleeves, Fashion gives its approval. One of the novelties of the coming Spring season is having sleeves that are entirely detached from the frock, beginning at the upper arm or elbow and permitting the bare arm to show from the shoulder to where the sleeve begins. Another instance of this style is the separate tight fitting sleeve of gold cloth illustrated in the upper left hand corner, which begins on the upper arm instead of at the shoulder, which Mae Murray wears on an evening frock of gold cloth in "The Masked Bride". The Russian peasant influence is seen in many of the new full sleeves which are gathered at the wrist and finished with a narrow cuff, and in the prevalent ornate embroidery is being used in attractive color combinations and exotic effects. Sleeves of metallic lace too are sponsored by Fashion in gowns for afternoon and semi-formal wear.

The program for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. E. George Harlow, who opened the program with an introduction on English literature, followed by a piano solo by Miss Mildred Fraser. Her selection was "Love's Grating" by Elgar.

Mrs. Otto W. Peterson, chairman of the literature committee of the Alameda District Federation of Women's Clubs gave an interesting account of her work among the various clubs in this district. Mrs. Dominica Robbins rendered two vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. Syra Kreutzen. The numbers she gave were "That Is Why" by Kraemer, and "Nellie and In The Woods" by Goldsworthy.

One of the most interesting book reviews of the year was given by Mrs. S. Ripley on "Forsythe Saga" a work of Goldsworthy, the well known English writer. Mrs. Ripley handled her subject in an exceptional manner.

Soviet Schools Teach Students Use of Sledge

By LAURA KNICKERBOCKER
(By Universal Service)

MOSCOW, Jan. 14.—Young Bachelors of Arts in the sledge hammer course and young Doctors of Philosophy of the power machine are being turned out by a new-fledged Moscow institution.

At the Central Institute of Labor instructors teach awkward workers just how many hammer strokes to make to the minute, just how many inches to bend the back and at what angle the feet must be placed in order to get the most from the muscle energy expended.

This has all been figured out to a fraction. Each motion is marked by an invariable law, and the workers are taught to go about their tasks with the precision of wooden soldiers. After this course the worker becomes a smooth running machine.

Russian workmen have long been considered below the world level in intelligence and efficiency. Given a tool in a modern workshop they are so leisurely and awkward that their joints seem to crack. Something had to be done to bring them up to a degree of efficiency if the Workers' Republic was to take its place as a power in an industrialized world.

A poet, Alexis Gasteff believed he had discovered the solution when with much imagination and many blue prints he founded the Labor Institute.

There the brightest workers are sent from the factories. After a year's training they go back to their shops and take their position as models and teachers among the other musclebound workers.

Give a Demonstration
So far, the institute in its five years' existence has turned out 1000 scientific hammer drivers. This year the factories sent up a wall for at least 10,000 more of these modernized workers.

A special demonstration to show just how the rough edges are worn off the most lubberly toiler was given at the fifth anniversary celebration of the institute.

It was a gala occasion with Gasteff presiding and showing off the new crop of trained workers to Director Tomskey, of the All-Russian Council of Trade Unions.

The band played the stirring "International" and the "graduating class" marched in wearing heavy crash aprons instead of the scholarly cap and gown. Two muscular young women were in the group.

All went through their tricks with a martial pride. Every blow of the hammers was timed—every motion of the body according to the book.

All new-fangled ideas in factory management had been applied in training these recruits. Machines to weigh them, to measure their endurance, to measure the quality of their gray matter—had dazed them when they first entered the school.

The Problem of Rest
In a few weeks though they had mastered the ground work, had conquered their humping muscles and learned to stand at the power machine in the soldierly manner prescribed by the specialists.

The problem of rest has been especially studied at the institute and it has been decided that a five minute complete cessation of work in every hour is more relaxing and effective than a whole hour taken all at once.

One distinctive feature of the institute is that before each machine stands an easy chair in which the worker is supposed to stretch out for his five minute rest.

To see all these improvements

Do Your Garters Match the Coat? Hers Do!

Fur garters to match fur coats, this is the latest fashion fable on the horizon—a sort of capitulation to this age of short costumes and elaborate furs.

Gwen Lee, pretty Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, started the innovation, which designers of costumes are hailing with enthusiasm.

When Miss Lee wears her furs, she wears specially made garters embellished with the same fur as the coat. The effect is, to say the least, startling.

Since she's been wearing this novelty, several other screen celebrities have taken it up.

Anyhow—it's great for the fur dealers!

Child Spiritualist Gives Gay Vienna An Unusual Thrill

By O. D. TOLISCHUS
(By Universal Service)
BRILLIN, Jan. 14.—A new "wonder child," a 14-year-old spiritualist medium who, it is claimed, surpasses all previous mediums ever known, is creating a stir in Vienna.

Under the tutelage of Archduchess Elizabeth of Habsburg-Windischgrätz, who has taken the girl into her own house, scientists are trying to solve the riddle of her powers.

The girl's name is Vilma Palfeld, daughter of well-to-do Hungarian peasants.

According to reports, whenever she appears, material things suddenly cease to behave as they should, and defying all laws of nature and gravity begin to hop, skip and jump about in a way that makes the hair of the on-lookers stand on end. Chairs, tables, knives, forks and other objects suddenly grow alive and move about of their own accord.

She first attracted attention, so the story goes, when suddenly the cellar door of her home opened and the potatoes stored there began to roll up the cellar stairs, one by one, to arrange themselves in a heap before the door of her bedroom where she was sleeping.

For that, she was hailed as a powerful magnet, until the whole village became convinced she was "possessed of the devil."

The village clergyman was appealed to but could do nothing.

The Archduchess heard of the "wonder child" while visiting in the neighborhood and brought her to Vienna for scientific investigation.

Introduced into real factories, "when Russia is rich enough" is one of the dreams of the poet Gasteff who was awarded the coveted decoration of the Order of the Red Banner at the anniversary demonstration.

Henry S. Sirard Dies Across Bay

Word has been received of the death of Henry S. Sirard, brother of Louis A. Sirard, publisher of the El Cerrito Journal. Sirard died while under an anesthetic for the purpose of performing a minor operation on his throat, at his home in San Francisco. His death was entirely unexpected, and an investigation is being made by the coroner.

Sirard, who was once employed by the Standard Oil company here, had for the past four years been employed by the federal prohibition enforcement division at San Francisco. He had been engaged in investigating the Moss Landing affair during recent months.

Skiing and Snowshoeing Popular Sports in Old Quebec

SKI JUMP AT QUEBEC

If at first you don't succeed—fall again! Naturally, you just have to when you try to ski or snowshoe. Never be discouraged if for the first three or four attempts to progress with snowshoes on your feet you always end on your nose. Until you learn the swing, or waddle of snowshoes which brings one shoe in front of the other, instead of on top of it, you will not learn to move softly and noiselessly over the surface of high piled snow. Until you learn that the skis must remain parallel, and not take to cross-crooking and affectionately greeting each other, you will not enjoy the thrill of speeding down a mountain side, or hopping off the brow of the hill, to land smoothly on the road below and glide to a rapturous pause.

And Quebec is not only the place to learn, but it is the place to enjoy winter sports to the fullest extent when you have become an expert. The entire winter is filled with ski races, snowshoe races, competition on top of competition. An international convention of Snowshoe Clubs being held in February will fill the Chateau Frontenac with snowshoers in uniform, more than a thousand of whom are expected from all parts of Canada and the United States. The world championship in snow-

GREAT WEALTH A CURSE SAYS MILLIONAIRE

(By Universal Service)

LONDON, Jan. 14.—A tobacco millionaire who "has no use for money" celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday here recently by giving away a quarter of a million dollars more of his fortune to English charitable institutions. He is Bernhard Baron. He started life as a boy earning $1 a week in a New York cigarette factory. Afterward he worked at the same tobacco bench with the then young Samuel Gompers. Then he invented a cigarette making machine that not only turned out cigarettes by the millions but made him a huge fortune from the business. He started here years ago.

Now, in the Seventies, his greatest pleasure in life is giving this fortune away to alleviate want and suffering. Already he has donated $2,500,000 to various institutions and intends to keep on doing it as long as he lives.

Mr. Baron's real home is a small place at Hove. He spends a week there and then a week in town at work in his huge factory. He never goes into society, belongs to the Labor Party and still puts in an 8-hour day the weeks he is in town. He lives a simple life and only recently bought his first motor car.

On his birthday recently he spent the day at his office giving $250,000 in checks that ranged all the way from $1000 to $5000 and which went out to a widely scattered list of benefactions. Incidentally, he distributed a birthday cake and a week's pay to each of a couple thousand employees in his factory.

Here is some of his philosophy of charity: "I have made tons of money, but what good is it to me? I have nothing to do with money but to give it away."

Charity has no religion. Charity knows no nationality. It springs from something higher than ourselves. There is nothing in making money. To give—that is the greatest joy of all.

The fact that I am able to give away scores of thousands of dollars is not the sole reason for the pleasure I take in giving. It would be the same if I were a poor man and could only give a sixpence.

"Money is not happiness. The biggest curse a man can experience is to have too much of it."

Frank Louriero Passes Away

Frank Louriero, 72, passed away at the family home, 736 Eighth street, this morning. Funeral services, which are in the hands of Bert Curry, have not been completed as yet.

Tire Repairing Cold Cash In Your Pocket

There are two ways to take care of a tire injury. One way is to put a blowout patch in the tire and let it stay there.

The other way—and the only good way—is to use the blowout patch only as a temporary repair. At the first opportunity the tire should be taken to a competent and able vulcanizer for permanent repair. This means saving thousands of miles of the tire's life.

END OF YEAR GOOD TIME TO START THRIFT PRACTICES
By S. W. STRAUS,
President American Society for Thrift.

With the end of another year at hand, today is a good time to take stock of one's individual progress.

In a material way, the past year has been wasted unless you have saved something out of your earnings. For saving money is the final test of one's personal upbuilding.

It may be easy enough to find excuses for lack of thrift, but it is foolish to take this attitude.

Unless the circumstances are very unusual, the test of your success lies in your ability to save. If you have not enough will-power to do this, the chance of your making progress is slight.

Let this day be one of firm decision in this respect, not only because of the immediate amount of money that it will mean to you in your bank or your strong-box, but also on account of the stability of character it will give you.

If you have been living beyond your means, now is a good time to pull yourself together and start on a new basis of spending less than you earn.

The man who starts next year with a definite resolution to save money and get ahead will find that before he is far along in 1926 these fixed habits will accomplish far more for him than he ever dreamed could be the case.

If the old year and the ones preceding it have brought only failure and disappointment to you, do not be discouraged.

Let all the unpleasant memories of the past be buried with the years that have gone.

In this endeavor your very first step must be a firm resolution to practice thrift.

GIRL RECORD-BREAKER, RESOLVED TO SWIM ONCE A DAY ALL YEAR, CHOPS HOLE IN ICE TO START 1926

Irene Hennius, the 17-year-old Winthrop, Mass., girl who broke the record last summer in the 10-mile swim to the Boston Light had resolved to swim once a day throughout 1926. True to her resolve, she armed herself with an axe on New Year's Day and went to the Orient Heights Yacht Club in East Boston, where she chopped a hole in the ice to make her plunge possible.

RUSSIA IS NOT TROUBLED WITH RACE SUICIDE

(By Universal Service)

MOSCOW, Jan. 14.—The Bolsheviks may have their troubles but race suicide isn't one of them.

While other countries are holding heated controversies over too much birth control, and some European countries are eyeing with fright the decreased birth rate figure, Russia's population goes merrily on multiplying.

There was an increase of 33,500 births over deaths in Moscow alone—a city of 2,200,000 inhabitants—during the last twelve months. That brings the increase to about 17,000 for every million inhabitants.

With a population of 140,000,000 the yearly increase may be reckoned at 2,600,000 at the very least for the entire Soviet Union.

STORK IS ASSET
In other countries where a visit of the stork is considered a liability, it's welcomed in Russia as an asset. Each new member in a peasant family brings Papa Peasant a new parcel of land from the government. Which is pretty good propaganda against birth control.

The Bolsheviks while admitting that they have not been able to really communize Russia, pin their faith on the next generation. They say that by education, by propaganda, the ideals of communism will be brought into force, not by this generation, but by the next.

So the more the merrier of this next generation which is to smite world imperialism and herald communism.

Workers are encouraged to produce large families. That's perhaps a surer way to increase the working class than by trying to turn the other classes into simon pure proletarians.

WOODMEN NINE CANCELS GAME IN BAY LEAGUE

The Modern Woodmen of America's fast baseball team of Richmond, who have been playing for about two-thirds of their schedule in the Spaulding Mid-Winter League have decided to cancel their schedule, Manager Carroll announced yesterday.

Last Sunday when the local team defeated the Albany Merchants by a score of four to three they were but one game behind the league leadership. However, Albany protested on a technicality. The action was sponsored by the Spaulding officials, who declared the game void.

This action gave the team but a slim chance for first place, so the manager decided to drop the remaining games on their schedule.

The local team went to the plate in the following manner: Matteri, 3b; Hansen, c; Mathson, lf; Murray, rf; Carroll, cf; A. Hansen, p; Huzelka, 1b; O'Rourke, 2b, and the venerable Hannon occupied short stop.

Local Man Is On U. C. Cage Team

Eddie Lemkuhl, former Richmond high school basketball star, is now holding down the position of center on the California Frosh team. Eddie knows his stuff and there is no doubt but he will win success at his position.

Lemkuhl shows the results of his training under Coach Ivan W. Hill of the local high school.

DUCK SEASON ENDS TODAY

One half hour after the sun sets tonight it will be illegal to shoot ducks. Since October 1 of 1925 duck hunters have been enjoying a good season of shooting. Although the hunting has not been of the best this year it has been good in certain sections. Many local hunters reporting the duck on each trip.

A movement is under foot at the present time to have the season open at a later date than October 1, so that the season will close on February 1, instead of January 15. A bill is said to be ready for the next meeting of the legislature with this end in view. The reason for the bill is the fact that duck hunting is said to be better the latter part of January than any other season of the year.

Junior High Not To Enter League

Coach "Denny" Miner of the Roosevelt Junior High School has announced that due to the fact that the long distances between trips is impracticable the Junior High cagers will be unable to enter the league which was proposed early this season between Crockett, Vallejo, Napa and Richmond.

According to Miner the local school will play Vallejo and Crockett but Napa is too great a distance to travel.

Gambs with Oakland and Berkeley Junior high schools are being arranged for by Miner and "Doc" Seawright.

Harry Hammond, publisher of the Byron Times, was a visitor in Richmond recently. Hammond is one of the keenest political analysts in California.

R.U.H.S. Cagers Will Meet the Roosevelt High

The Richmond High school quintet met the Roosevelt High school quintet from Oakland tonight on the High school court at 7:30. This promises to be one of the toughest games of the season for the Roosevelt team have won ten games and lost one. Napa, the state champions took the Roosevelt team down the line 23-13. This indicates that if the Richmond team is to win they will have to make a wonderful fight.

Hill will probably use the following men in his line ups: Villalobos and Dyer, forwards; O. Johnson, center; Barbieri and Guadoni, guards.

TOD MORGAN UNDER KNIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion of the world, who last night at Oakland easily defeated Stewart McLean in ten rounds will not be seen in the roped arena for at least two months due to an operation which was performed today. Morgan in the final round last night received vicious blows over the left eye, which opened an old wound just below the eyebrow and split the eyelid.

According to Dr. John F. Sullivan, who operated on Morgan at St. Luke's hospital, Morgan would be inviting paralysis of the left eyelid if the wound is not properly cared for and he requested the champion to set his boxing gloves aside for at least two months.

Morgan left the hospital shortly after the operation. He was scheduled to meet Lou Paluso of Salt Lake on February 3, in Los Angeles, but the indications now are that the bout will be called off.

Scenes From Big Mexican Flood are Told by Witness

clusive interview to Universal Service. Within a few hours the usually placid San Diego river became a maelstrom of seething waters, a maddened stream filled with debris picked up over its several hundred miles destructive course. San Blas being at the tail end of the flood received less damage than towns to the south. I was in San Blas when the inundation commenced. Warehouses were piled against the San Blas custom collectors home when the flood first started. Within a short time the volume of the water increased and swept all into the sea.

"For days, the entire district was virtually isolated due to torrential rains that commenced falling December 10 and continued until they reached a peak on the 29th. The flood came rushing down to the city January 2.

"During all this time it was unsafe to venture out. Fears for a group of people quartered in a camp, 15 miles north of us, caused us to send out a rescue crew on the night of the second. The workers were unable to reach the camp until the 5th. Every building and home had been swept away with the exception of a large warehouse. On the roof of this structure we found eight persons—all that remained of a prosperous community.

"The survivors had been exposed to cold for a number of days without food and they were in a pitiable condition. Small babies were found dead in the arms of their mothers and altogether the scene was as bad as can be imagined.

"Just a few hundred paces from the camp where the eight survivors were found there once, had been a banana plantation, operated by a middle aged Mexican. When the rushing waters came this man took his wife and five children to elevated ground and tied them in trees. He then started in a dugout canoe to seek help. In an hour and a half he was able to progress a few hundred feet through the raging torrent. Exhausted by then, he left the canoe float as it would. Within a few minutes he had been carried back to the place where he had left the woman and the children, but they were gone, apparently swept from the trees by the water in its rush to the sea.

"On another rescue trip we were unable to find any trace of a village we sought. Only swelling waters covered the ground on which it had been situated. Fur-

LOCAL LEGION POSTS SEATS NEW OFFICERS

A banquet was held after the sessions and a fine program was presented.

Other officers who were installed were: First vice-president, T. Bradley; second vice-president, J. A. Rader; adjutant, C. W. St. John; sergeant-at-arms, W. Oakley; color bearers, J. Malone and T. Nassar; chaplain, G. M. Bumgarner; treasurer, A. Papadakis; historian, R. S. Crose; executive committee, W. Mayer and T. Wake; memorial hall board, George Tansy.

Other committees appointed at the meeting last night were: Committee for meeting other veteran organizations for Lincoln birthday program at schools; C. W. St. John, T. M. Caffee and R. Crose.

S. S. Ripley was appointed chairman of the Welfare committee.

The local post received a notice from the national headquarters congratulating it upon the distinguished services carried on in the past year.

High School Senate Has First Session With New Officers

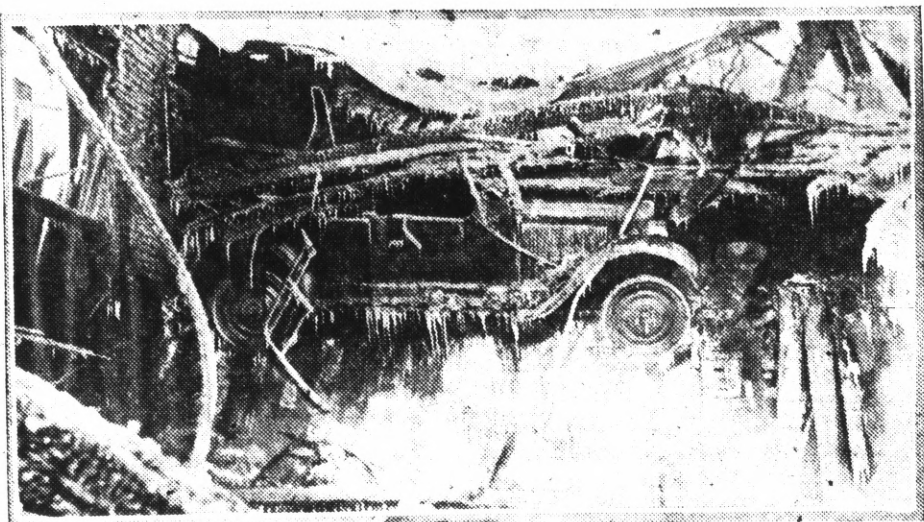

William Abbey, the new president of the high school senate, presided at the first meeting of the year yesterday morning. Regular business was transacted.

Last year there were a large number of the Hi-Nus, the school paper, bound in a red and blue cover, and although in years before the copies had sold fast this year they were not so easily disposed of. At the meeting it was decided to dispose of all the copies at 15 and 25 cents.

For the coming athletic events, the commissioners were empowered to vote out sufficient funds to cover the costs of the games.

ther up the river we found cattle and horses caught in a grudge that stood on an elevated place. This was the most gruesome of the flood scenes. We were powerless to help much in the rescue work because of the lack of boats."

Fire-Fighting Is Difficult During Chicago's Cold Snap; Scene Of One Of 108 Blazes Day After Christmas

During the cold snap on December 26 in Chicago there were 108 fires, mostly caused by overheated stoves and furnaces. This view shows one of the buildings destroyed by fire. The extreme cold weather made the work of the firemen very difficult and dangerous. The water froze on the buildings and endangered the fire-fighters by dropping off in large cakes in the form of icicles.

DE MOLAY HAS INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

Louis Kiraly was installed as master councillor of the Richmond De Molay, at its meeting last night at the Masonic hall. Sidney Gnaga, past master councillor, acted as installing officer.

Other officers who were installed were: Francis Marchetti, senior councillor; Drenan Ryan, junior councillor; Julius Strauss, senior; Lee Brown, treasurer; Bradford Stevenson, senior deacon; ity Butcher, junior deacon; Fred Willesey, senior steward; Dave Hutcheson, junior steward; Camp-ton Gault, marshal; Arthur Owens, senior; James Hamill, chaplain; Paul Armstrong, orator; Harold Chapman, standard bearer; Louis Stevenson, almoner; Charles Cannon, Alex. Poulsen, Archie Campbell, Willie Anderson, Walter Siegel, George Clark, Harold Obenland, preceptors.

Following the installation ceremonies a dance was held. The De Molay orchestra furnished the music.

South Richmond Club Whist Party Is Postponed

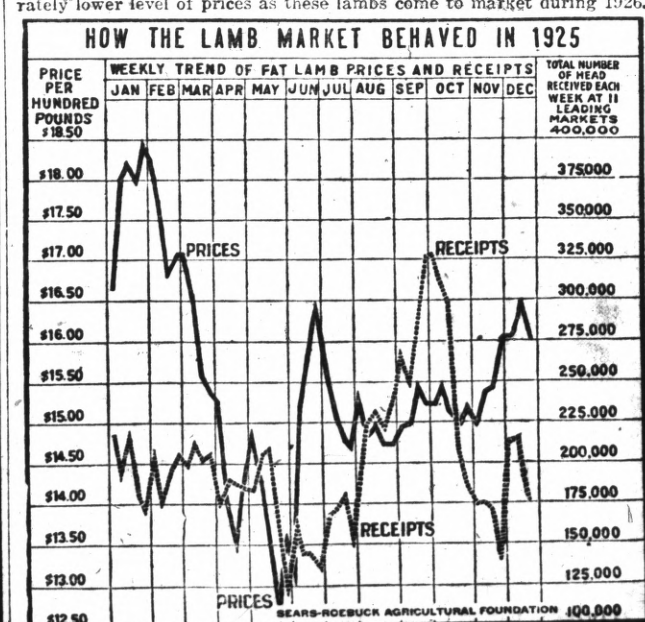

The whist party which was to have been held by the South Richmond club last night was called off, due to the unsettled weather. Further arrangements will be made at the meeting, which will be held on Tuesday, January 19, at the clubhouse.

SHEEP INDUSTRY IMPROVING MORE PROFIT SHOWN IN 1925

The prices for lamb have been relatively high in 1925, with lamb supplies available for slaughter only slightly below normal figures, according to a report of the lamb market by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation. Four sheep producing states and ranches have been good. Conditions in the whole area west of the Rocky Mountains are vastly better than they were a year ago.

The sheep industry was much more profitable in 1925 than it was in 1924. Lamb prices in Chicago averaged about $15.35 in November, 1925, as compared with an average of $6.65 for the same month in the five years from 1909 to 1913. The top price was reached in January, at $18.50 per cwt., and the low price of $12.50 came in May. Both prices and receipts have fluctuated up and down through the entire season, but efforts to expand production have kept market receipts down because ranchers were retaining their ewe lambs with which to replenish and increase their flocks. The number of ewes slaughtered from July to September in 1925 is the smallest for that same period during the last four years.

The number of lambs on feed both in the corn belt and in the western feeding districts is smaller than it was last year and some advance in the present price of lamb seems probable from now on. There will probably be a larger lamb crop, however, next spring and a moderately lower level of prices as these lambs come to market during 1926.

CHILDREN ILL IN MOSCOW

(By Universal Service)

MOSCOW, Jan. 14. More than two-thirds of the children of Moscow are suffering from anemia according to a report just given out by Dr. E. P. Radin of the city health department.

More prosperity and better living conditions have had little effect on the anemia children because of the long-standing results of the years of privation and semi-starvation which they and their parents have gone through.

In the families of workers and employees, Dr. Radin charges that very little attention is paid the health of the children. With mother and father both away from home all day at work, the children must makeshift as best they can.

The youths of school age take no care of themselves, he said, and are overworked in their clubs and their meetings.

Forty-four per cent of the minors are definitely ill with various diseases such as chronic indigestion and nervous disorders.

The anemia among minors is on the increase, and is worse than it was even during the famine years. This the doctor accounts for by the fact that the constitution of parents and children were permanently undermined by starvation and the anemia condition grew worse instead of better.

Continued unsanitary housing conditions and too much work and not enough healthy outdoor exercise are working havoc with the young generation, Dr. Radin declares.

BURKE COUNCIL Y. M. I. NAMES NEW OFFICERS

Officers for the year of 1926 were elected at the meeting of the Burke Council Y. M. I. at its meeting last night at the Memorial hall. President Bernard Dolan was in charge of the session.

The new officers who were elected were: Honorary chaplain, Rev. G. Father G. Collins; president, Joseph Silvia; first vice president, Dan Hallahan; second vice president, C. John A. Carey; recording secretary, W. E. Carey; financial secretary, M. J. Corr; treasurer, Martin Matteri; marshal, J. Riordan Jr.; medical examiner, Dr. E. R. Guinan; executive committee: M. Bradley, Henry Bill, H. Broome, Johns Schinnoek; inside sentinel, W. Corcoran; outside sentinel, A. T. Murphy.

Warm Homes in Artic New Lure

(By Universal Service) LENINGRAD, Jan. 14.—"Snug little houses with every facility to keep out the numbing cold, and with latest modern conveniences compactly set into small space, have been built on the barren polar reaches of the islands of the Arctic Ocean to lure hardy colonists there for the White Sea department of Soviet trading.

The Soviets hope to exploit the rich fisheries around Nova Zembla, Voigacha and Kolgueyeva, but must offer special inducements to get pioneers to settle in this region where the climate is so severe and the long months of night so dark that even the Eskimos avoid it.

NEW RATES GO INTO EFFECT THIS MORNING

No statement other than that the points raised in the petitions were considered insufficient upon which to grant a rehearing, was made by the commission in its decision.

With the new rates actually in effect, Grey declared that he will bend his efforts toward defeating the application for permanent increases, and for corresponding rates on the Southern Pacific.

MOTOR BUS IS CHEAPER THAN STREET CARS

progressing so rapidly that the city is unwilling to commit itself to any one definite type of bus service for a long period.

Within the last few months, for instance, Philadelphia has taken a long step ahead by adopting a type of motor bus far superior in operating service to the prevalent types in other cities.

While it would be impossible to finance for private trolley car service on the basis of franchise ranging from day to day permits to long term leases of tracks and trolleys, many private bus companies are competing eagerly for the right to inaugurate services along the 116 new route miles that are to be immediately motorized in New York.

These bus companies know the bus business is secure; they know that at the expiration of a short franchise they will not be left with useless investment in tracks and trolleys. Their equipment is mobile; the first cost of installing new or extended service is covered to the cost of the buses and the garages which house them.

This illustrates the facility with which motor bus service can be started and extended. New York proposes to put this new transportation facility to use.

Naturally New York has checked the costs of motor bus operation very carefully, since it plans to go into the bus transit business on a cash basis.

The claim is made by street car companies almost universally that motor bus operation far exceeds in cost the operation of trolley cars powered by electricity and running on steel rails.

Operating a mile at the cost of operating a double deck bus, the figure given by the Fifth Avenue Coach company, operating in Manhattan and the Bronx. This figure is assumed by the city to be ample and generous, as the Fifth Avenue Coach company charges 10 cents a ride. Hence it would only have to carry four passengers per mile to break even.

Included in that 40 cents a mile cost are all charges, such as wages of motorman and conductor, garages, supervision, depreciation of vehicles, and buildings, damage claims, etc. However, it does not include taxes.

The same items are included in the 20 cents a mile cost of operating a single deck type of buses. The New York transit commission says that the average cost of operating trolley cars on the New York surface rail lines is 55.08 cents per mile.

New York plans to stick rigidly to the policy of operating its proposed bus system on the 5-cent fare basis.

On the strength of most carefully made studies and surveys it would thus appear that in order to meet all necessary expenses of this operation on a 5-cent fare basis, eight or more passengers per mile must be carried or "packed up" for double deck bus service, and six or more passengers a mile for single deck service.

THE SIGNIFICANT THING ABOUT NEW YORK CITY'S ANALYSIS OF COMPARATIVE COSTS OF TROLLEY CAR AND BUS OPERATION IS THAT IT FOUND BUS OPERATION FAR CHEAPER AS WELL AS FAR MORE SATISFACTORY FROM THE PUBLIC STANDPOINT.

Cat Not Wild Animal Says British Court

(By Universal Service)

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Cats are not wild animals. This has been solemnly decreed by Justices Shearman and Sankey in the Divisional Court here. The cat before the court had killed a neighbor's pigeons and bantams but its owner knew nothing about these predatory practices. When he was fined for the damages he successfully defended the case and a society of homing pigeon fanciers took an appeal.

Both judges held that a cat is no more a wild animal than a dog is, and that its owner is not liable for its misdeeds until they are called to his attention. So a cat is legally entitled at least to a first bite of a pigeon in England.

This is the time of the year that plausible individuals begin taking an active interest in the other fellow's bank account. The less impetuous person consults with his banker before closing any financial undertakings with which he is not fully familiar.
